IN THE BALANCE

Spanning a jaw-dropping 6½', the Hemisphere pendant light by Japanese designer Oji Masanori for Mjölkk makes a grand impression. Yet, its wow factor comes from its daring simplicity: the carefully balanced design resembles a child's mobile, with the copper end shining light up and the brass shade directing light down. From approx. $2,500. At Mjölkk.

CHIC & EASY

FRESH COAT

Turning a garage sale castoff into a total showstopper is easy as pie — or paint. A cool new collection of chalk-style paint by Ottawa designer Amanda Forrest for The Fat Paint Company lets you dip your brush in spring's hottest hues. Rich colours like Navy State of Mind, rosy Blushing Bombshell and zesty Orangeapalooza go on smoothly for a perfect finish or distress easily for an antiqued effect. $13/4 oz. sample; $25/pt.; $39/qt. At retailers across North America.

QUICK FIX

Silent Partners

You love your heritage floors, but a persistent squeak threatens to drive you mad. Good news: you don't have to rip them up to soothe your nerves. Toronto-based Silent Floor Solutions performs a fast fix by drilling tiny holes into the wood, inserting an adhesive to stabilize the squeaky layers and then carefully filling the openings. The work is seamless, even on tiled or carpeted floors.

Packages from $500. Through Silent Floor Solutions.
